THE 53D CONGRESS.

SHADOWS OF INTEREST CAST BEFORE ITS EARLY COMING.

The Desired Democratic House Caucus Still in the Clouds—The House and the Senate Offices.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 1.—Representative Catchings, the leading member of the House Committee on Rules, was an early caller upon Mr. Crisp today and remained in the ex-Speaker's rooms during the afternoon. He has always been Mr. Crisp's adviser in private; so it was not assumed that he had been called into consultation respecting the committee assignments and the House rules. Mr. Catchings shares Mr. Crisp's views respecting the length of the session.

THE RULES.

Touching the rules he feels that while there is urgent necessity for the adoption of some rules for the government of the House, there is no reason for any radical revision. Under the old rules, which were adopted in 1875, a vote upon a pending question the result could be attained through a special order or rule from the Committee on Rules. The House has lost none of its efficiency, and was still available. If changes are to be made in the direction of the House, they should be made in the House, and not in the Senate. An exhibition of the actual necessity of the case.

THE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

The members of the House now in Washington are in the dark as to the date of the Democratic House caucus, which is necessary to perfect a scheme of organization for the caucus. One of the secretaries of the Democratic caucus, wired to the House, asking for authority to call the caucus for Saturday night at 8 o'clock, but no response had been received up to tonight.

THE DOORKEEPERS.

The lists at the House post-office show very few new arrivals of representatives. For this reason the contest for the House offices will be a contest of the old guard. The House will have opened up headquarters in true convention style have been rather lively. The worst fight was between Mr. Turner and Mr. Crisp. Mr. Turner, the doorkeeper of the last House, is confident that he will have no difficulty in securing a majority of the House offices.

THE HOUSE OFFICES.

Mr. Turner's two opponents—Hurt and Tennessee and Smith of Texas—are pursuing a cautious policy. Mr. Turner is confident of success.

SENIATE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

It is supposed that the Senate Democratic caucus will be a contest of the old guard. The Senate will have opened up headquarters in true convention style have been rather lively. The worst fight was between Mr. Turner and Mr. Crisp. Mr. Turner, the doorkeeper of the last House, is confident that he will have no difficulty in securing a majority of the House offices.

REASONS FOR THE TARDINESS OF THE STATESMEN IN ARRIVING.

Virginia Members Expected To-Day—Probable Committee Assignments—Post-Office Policy To Be Devised—Patents.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, August 1.—None of the Virginia or North Carolina congressmen have yet reached the city. The statesmen are generally slow in putting in an appearance. There are several reasons for their tardiness. One is the absence of the President and so many of the responsible heads of departments. Another is that there is comparatively little contest over the House organization and still another is that the extra session will commence at a season of the year when a man is hardly to be expected to hurry back to Washington any sooner than absolutely compelled by the necessities of the war.

SOME OF THE VIRGINIA MEMBERS ARE EXPECTED TO-MORROW OR THE NEXT DAY. Mr. Marshall, of the House, is expected to arrive to-morrow. Mr. Marshall, of the House, is expected to arrive to-morrow. Mr. Marshall, of the House, is expected to arrive to-morrow.

COMMITTEE ASSIGNMENTS.

Judge Crisp, who is certain to succeed himself as Speaker of the House, has assigned the Virginia and North Carolina members to the following committees:

First, let our adversaries agree to the free exchange of silver at either the ratio of 15 to 1 or 16 to 1. I prefer the former. If they do we will agree to the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law. Next, amend the law so that the money market will be left to the market.

THE HOUSE OFFICES.

Mr. Turner's two opponents—Hurt and Tennessee and Smith of Texas—are pursuing a cautious policy. Mr. Turner is confident of success.

boys will leave the city Saturday night the 12th, and the event will be marked by the use of the city's police. There are twenty members of the Army these nights, and only those poor boys who are left in the city. There is a story for others. Of course, a great many members will gather up their guns and accoutrements and their horses to the States upon this occasion, but a number of the young men will probably not be able to leave their business. What is possible for an employer of one of the soldier boys to allow his employee to take advantage of this week of rest and recreation, he should remember that it was a young man once himself.

Lightning struck the Corps. Mr. A. H. Hancock, agent for the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, has sent to the office a case of cigars worth $20.00 was sent in two feet of lightning. It was growing within a few feet of his office when struck.
